MESSAGE FROM DG & CEO

Shri Gyaneshwar Kumar Singh
Director General & CEO
IICA

In today's hyper-connected global economy, valuation is no longer a backstage technicality—it is front and centre in capital markets, corporate strategy, mergers and acquisitions, regulation, litigation and sustainable finance. Market transparency, fair-value reporting and investor protection hinge on credible valuation frameworks. This is especially true now, as macro-level shifts—technology innovation, intangible asset proliferation, climate risk and demographic transition—reshape asset values overnight.

In the Indian context, these dynamics are even more compelling. India is on the cusp of a demographic dividend, rapid digitization, mass privatization of public sector enterprises, and large-scale infrastructure investment tied to the Viksit Bharat 2047 vision. India's growth narrative cannot afford valuation ambiguity.

At IICA, we have a structural role in strengthening the valuation ecosystem. Our valuation leadership is explicitly aligned with nation-building imperatives: enabling capital discipline, supporting disinvestment and asset monetization, and embedding valuation literacy across public and private sectors.

Through this flagship IVCP programme, IICA extends an invitation to professionals, policy-makers, regulators, financiers, corporates and academics who wish to elevate valuation as a public good.

Best wishes for your learning journey.

MESSAGE FROM PROGRAM DIRECTORS

Prof (Dr) Naveen Sirohi
HoD, School of Finance
& Management, IICA

FCA Rajiv Singh
Adjunct Faculty
IICA

Whether you're a registered valuer preparing for high-stakes engagements, a banker assessing fair value risks for lending and investment decisions, a lawyer supporting valuation in litigation or arbitration, or a corporate strategist charting long-term value creation—the IVCP equips you with the knowledge & tools needed to navigate complex valuation landscapes with confidence and integrity. It is equally relevant for board members and independent directors, who are increasingly required to exercise informed judgment on valuation reports for mergers, acquisitions, related-party transactions, and impairment reviews.

For regulators and policy-makers, the programme strengthens their capacity to scrutinise valuation practices that underpin regulatory filings, public offerings, disinvestments, and insolvency proceedings—ensuring transparency, fairness, and market stability. Likewise, finance professionals, including CAs, CS, CFOs, investment analysts, auditors, and risk officers, benefit from a structured framework to evaluate valuation assumptions, challenge models, and ensure alignment with both financial reporting standards and shareholder value imperatives.

In short, IVCP serves as a powerful enabler across the valuation value-chain—from doing, using, reviewing, to governing valuation—making it indispensable for today's multi-stakeholder governance and financial ecosystem. At the heart of IVCP is a simple message: India deserves global valuation professionals with India-centric understanding.

We welcome you to the course.

EVOLVING ROLE OF VALUATION

“ The valuation profession will only grow in importance. New challenges and opportunities to enhance business and financial markets, and society at large, will confront valuers at a greater rate. Macro trends including climate change; a shift in the way we use and manage natural resources; population demographics; the proliferation of financial instruments; and the role of technology in business will shape, and be shaped by, the valuation profession. Asset values will evolve as these forces influence our day-to-day lives, and the importance of transparent and reliable valuations, including on balance sheets, will only become more important in our interconnected world.

Sir David Tweedie

Chairman
International Valuation Standards Council

Whether you are working for value creation, value capturing, value distribution, or tax collection, all are affected by valuation - be it courts, quasi-judicial authorities, governments, regulators, bankers, auditors, lawyers, investors and other stakeholders. Credible valuations are important in supporting economic activity, strengthening financial markets, and protecting the public interest.

For any market economy, valuation of assets is crucial to various business areas, from transactions and financing to litigation, strategic management and compliance. Stakeholders and regulators are demanding greater transparency through fair value reporting. Global Financial Crisis revealed deep fault lines and taught many important lessons, one of those being that valuation really does matter!

With accounting moving more and more towards value, there is need for competent and professional valuation experts globally.

CREDIBLE VALUATIONS ARE IMPORTANT IN SUPPORTING ECONOMIC ACTIVITY,
STRENGTHENING
FINANCIAL MARKETS,
AND PROTECTING THE PUBLIC INTEREST.
